

The definition of an “Active Borrower” is as follows:

An LCL Cardholder would be considered active if they have used their card in the last 3 years to check out materials or have used their card number to access digital content through the Ohio Digital Library, databases on the library’s website or through using a public Internet computer at one of our locations.